This interactive, coffee table book is a compilation of Mad, Sad, Icky and Afraid picture books. Just follow the prompts of shaking the book and tapping the book to befriend the emotion characters inside. Great starter book!

I love this book!! What a creative and clear way to explain how stressful emotions are very important messengers that speak through our bodies. Even as you read, your body is engaged by following the prompts and invitations to physically interact with the book. I highly recommend this for parents, teachers, librarians, counselors and anyone who spends time with children!
